CQ DE PA0LOU

With many regulatory authorities around the world having commenced their preparatory meetings for WRC2003, it is now opportune for National Amateur Radio Societies to provide their local authorities with background material on the Amateur Radio issues on the WRC agenda and to lobby for a Society representative inclusion in the official delegation.

On the 7MHz issue it is advisable to use the booklet distributed by the IARU International Secretariat as a basis for discussion and to supplement this with an additional local motivation. The booklet is available on the web. There is a convenient link from the Region 1 web : www.iaru-r1.org.

Other issues on the agenda include regulations S1, S19 and S25. In the March edition of Region 1 News you will find some useful additional material.

With World Amateur Radio Day coming up on 18 April, I urge you to use this opportunity to arrange some special events in your country to focus on the value that Amateur Radio brings to your country and communities.

The theme is:

"Amateur Radio - Continuing Innovation in Communication Technology."

REGION 1 CONFERENCE

As announced in the December edition the Region 1 Conference dates had to be changed to accommodate several important conferences where IARU officials have to be present in defence of Amateur Radio.

The new dates also afford you more time to submit papers and proposals for discussion at the conference.

On the first day of the conference we are planning an evening workshop for IARU Liaison Officers. The aim of this workshop is to assist member societies to develop programmes to present amateur radio to their regulatory and licensing authorities and the Ministry of Communication.

We would welcome your input on the agenda. Please email the convenor of the workshop Hans van de Groenendaal ZS6AKV at: hans@intekom.co.za.

During the conference of IARU Region 1 in San Marino in November 2002 Agnes Tobbe will hand out the booklet of IPHA number 6. The contents of it will be built on received information from the societies. Therefore all member societies in IARU Region 1, 2 and 3, which are interested in the organisation of amateur radio for handicapped people, are invited to send the relevant information to Agnes.

"Firstly, I hope that you are able to send me the developments in this field of your country for the last three years, such as:

- E-mail addresses and if there are addresses of webpages, I would like to have them.
- New addresses of societies which organise programmes for handicapped people and the activities they develop.
- Information about nets and other interesting items

- Suggestions for adapting equipment
- Interesting literature that was published in the magazines.
- And any additional information from the societies that will be of interest, for example, articles and photographs (digital) of activities

Secondly, I have the addresses of a lot of societies which were published in number 5, but I am sure that some of them have been changed. I would appreciate it if you will check the addresses and information of number 5 of IPHA concerning your society whether they are still correct or not", Agnes said.

Via the IARU – Region 1 webpage www.iaru-r1.org, you can find the IPHA webpage, where the digital booklet of IPHA number 5 can be found. Or click the webpage of IPHA – <http://www.users.bigpond.com/tobbe/iphah.htm>

Please check and let Agnus know the correct information, and don't forget your e-mail addresses for the webpage or booklet number 6. The deadline is 1st of August 2002. Please, send the articles and changes to Agnus at tobbe@bigpond.com

Agnus would also like to have any digital photographs regarding handicapped amateur radio
